

Central area of Derry/Londonderry showing the 17th-century walls at its heart, enclosing what is still regarded as the heart of the city. Walking around the walls and taking in the diverse and changing vistas is a must for visitors.